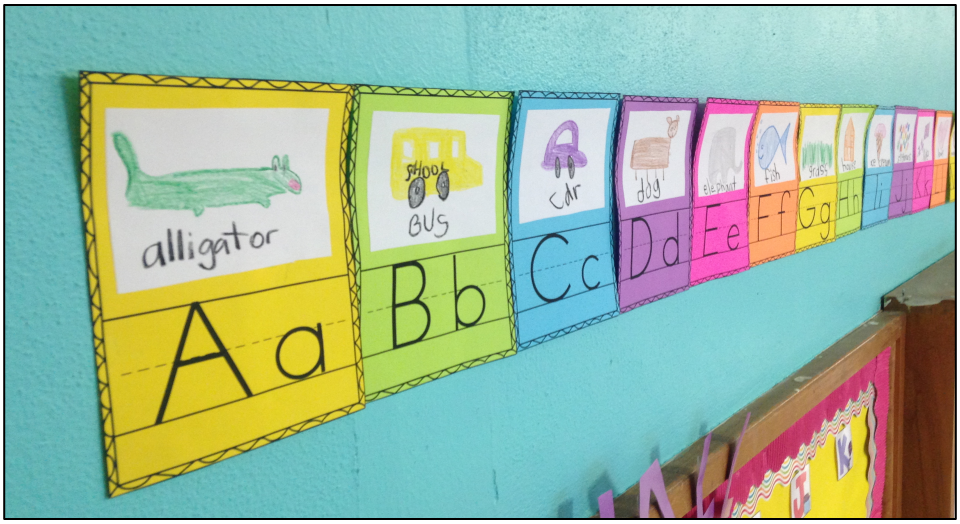
Student Created

CLASSROOM ALPHABET



By: The Primary Years

uses

This student created alphabet is PERFECT for your classroom!

- fun way for students to refresh their memories for letter sound relationships.
- easy to differentiate for students
- students take ownership of things in classroom
- leads to students more inclined to use this "tool" (that they created) when learning ABC order, looking up letters to remember the sounds
- helps create a "kid friendly" classroom environment

Note: Make copies to put into a class ABC book. Decorate the cover page of the ABC BOOK with pictures of things that were drawn.

HOW TO

- Print off ABC paper on colored paper.
- Print off small rectangle papers on white paper.
- Assign students one letter from the ABCs.
- Give each student their assigned colored paper for the letter they were assigned.
- Give the students one white small rectangle paper.
- Have students draw a picture of something that starts with their letter.
- Label the picture with black crayon.
- Glue white paper onto colored paper.

- Note: I let my students use phonetic spelling when labeling the picture- your choice!
